The Rails End Gallery in Haliburton was a busy place last Friday afternoon as a party was held to mark the opening of the Jean A. Chalmers show held in conjunction with the Canadian Crafts council conference. Scores of delegates and invited guests were on hand for the event. The show opened to the public on Saturday and will continue for the next three weeks.

County backs C of C, helps fund new office

Haliburton County council appears to have resolved its concerns over the operation and budget of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce and almost certainly will continue to grant the Chamber at least $60,000 a year.

Council gave the Chamber an informal vote of confidence last Wednesday after Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey demanded that council stop "skirting the issue" and bring it out into the open.

Fearrey said "aspersions of credibility" had been cast around, and that allegations that the Chamber had not been accountable to county council were wrong, and should be withdrawn.

The Dysart reeve said the management committee, of which he is chairman, had seen the Chamber's balance sheet and was satisfied that money granted by council had been used for the purposes it was intended.

Controversy over the Chamber first arose in July, when council's representatives Elgin Stouffer and Ron Gambell expressed frustration with the activities of the Chamber's board. Gambell subsequently resigned from his seat on the Chamber, and along with his fellow Lutterworth councillors, backed a resolution calling on county council to withdraw all funding of the Chamber for 1985.

Last Wednesday, Gambell declined to join in a discussion of the issue, claiming he had a conflict of interest and would express his concerns to the Chamber as a private citizen at its annual meeting in October.

Lutterworth deputy reeve Glynne Lewis said he had supported the resolution because he believed the Chamber should be self supporting with contributions from its membership. Subsequently he discovered that member contributions could not meet the Chamber's budget and said he would ask his council to reconsider its earlier motion in light of that fact.

Bicroft council passed a similar motion in August, but it advocated withholding funds until county council was satisfied with the way the 1984 grant has been spent. Reeve Bill Howe said he will recommend to his council that the motion be withdrawn in light of the Chamber's presentation to the county management committee.

Despite the apparent softening of county councillors' positions with respect to the Chamber, Dysart had been mismanaged.

Attesting to its support for the Chamber, council, at Fearrey's urging, turned its attention to the matter of the Chamber office, which has been described as "a disgrace" in earlier deliberations. Fearrey said the Chamber has $16,000 for a new building, and was considering a portable office trailer to replace the present building at the Highway 35 site owned by county council. However it was decided that a wooden building would be more appropriate, and estimates indicatreeve Fearrey pressed for an expression of confidence that would enable the budget committee to decide whether to continue providing a substantial grant for Chamber advertising and promotion programmes.

"I don't think the way to deal with this is by bashing them around," Fearrey said, adding that it was unlikely any county councillor wanted to take responsibility for dismantling the Chamber, the only vehicle presently in place for promoting Haliburton County.

"Let's clear the air," Fearrey said, asking Gambell if he was suggesting there had been any mismanagement of funds by the Chamber.

Gambell's response was a simple "no", that he was not saying money ed that a suitable structure could be erected on a concrete pad for less than $30,000. Accordingly, Fearrey asked council if it would be willing to commit up to $15,000 to add to the Chamber's $16,000 building fund.

After a brief discussion, council agreed to the proposal, and appointed Cardiff reeve Mac Peters, deputy reeve Ross Duncan, and Stanhope reeve Harry Davis to examine a wooden display cottage on the site of the Minden Red and White to determine if it could be purchased, moved and adapted for less than the cost of erecting a new structure.

The three men will bring their findings back to the county's management committee for further action.

Council endorses report

County council has endorsed a detailed study of water levels in Haliburton County that includes a number of recommendations for alleviating the problem of excessive water drawdown by Trent Severn Waterway authorities.

The study was undertaken by the Haliburton Highlands Water Levels Committee and carried out chiefly by committee members Bev Robinson, Murray Balkwill and Jerry Strickland. An 'executive summary' of the study was presented to county council last Wednesday.

Committee chairman Bill Howe, reeve of Bicroft, said the aim of the study was to examine the history of the waterway system and come up with a set of recommendations that can be sent to the appropriate provincial and federal authorities. A number of studies have been undertaken by the authorities in previous years, but little has been done to address the problem of fluctuating water levels in the Haliburton reservoir lakes, he noted.

Committee member Bev Robinson outlined the main conclusions of the study as contained in the summary presented to council.

Jurisdiction over the waterway system was given to the federal government in 1905, and it has continued to be presented by Parks Canada, but the committee believes the province should take more active role in the system in view of the impact of tourism on the Haliburton reservoir lakes.

With respect to the management of the system, the committee report recommends: a study of the transfer of the jurisdiction of the waterway system to the province; updating of the 1905 order in council that gave jurisdiction to the federal government with a federal/provincial operating agreement to overcome shortcomings and reflect current conditions; inclusion of the reservoir lakes in the Canada Ontario Rideau Trent Severn committee policies and establishment of a federal/provincial co ordinator through CORTS or some other agency; completion of a feasibility study on the establishment of a conservation authority for the reservoir lakes area.

Under the operations portion of the recommendations, the water levels committee advocates: an examination of the current Trent Severn Waterway operation by professional consultants; a flood risk

Haliburton Terry Fox run raises $1500 for cancer

Participation was up in this year's Haliburton Terry Fox run, but the event raised less money in donations and pledges than last year's run.

A total of 58 runners, walkers and bicyclists participated in the 10 kilometre run on Sunday afternoon, despite cloudy skies and occasional misty rain.

Pledges and donations totalled approximately $1500, almost $1000 less than last year's run generated.

The runner with the most money in pledges was Peter Hynard of Minden. Hynard's sponsors pledged on a 'double or nothing' basis, so he ran the route twice, non stop.

Gary Burk of Haliburton had the second highest pledge total of $131. James Duncan of Scarborough brought in $115 for his efforts.

Mark Carl of Haliburton was the fastest runner over the 10 kilometre distance, just ahead of Don Dunsmore, also of Haliburton.

Run organizer John Fitzgerald said the total of almost $1500 included a $10 donation from a passing motorist who noticed that the run was taking place, drove to the Head Lake dock starting point and handed in a contribution.

Assisting Fitzgerald in administering this year's run were Valerie Hoxie, Sue Vuksic, Sue Ballantyne, Connel Creelman and Diane Cowen.

The Haliburton run was one of hundreds held around the world on Sunday. The fourth annual event is expected to raise more than $1 million for cancer research. To date, more than $37 million has been raised by the Terry Fox Marathon of Hope.

Huskies team dropped

A shortage of players has forced Haliburton's Junior C Huskies hockey team to withdraw from competition. Only a dozen players have been coming out to pre season practice sessions, too few to ice a team according to club president Scott LaRue.

At a meeting Monday night, club supporters decided to notify the Ontario Hockey Association that Haliburton will be unable to participate in the Georgian Bay Junior C loop this season.

"We've tried to come up with enough players to ice a team," LaRue said. "It's just strictly that we don't have the numbers."

"We're looking at alternatives to get the boys who want to play involved in some kind of hockey," he said. Consideration will be given to forming a juvenile team, or to creating a high school hockey club.

Local businesses who have sponsored the Huskies in recent years will have to decide if they want to help fund a juvenile or high school club, LaRue said.

"Everybody involved in the club is pretty disappointed at having to drop it," LaRue said, adding that it is the first time since the club was formed in 1965 that it has been unable to ice a team.

The lack of players may be a temporary situation however. Presently there are enough Bantam age players to form three teams in Haliburton, and registration in minor hockey has been increasing over the past two years.

In the future, club supporters will consider rejoining the Junior C league, and have asked the OHA to leave the option open. There also is a possibility that a Junior D loop might be revived involving teams from Bancroft, Bewdley and Lakefield, LaRue said.

Police News

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police reports the following activity for the period of September 17 - 23, 1984. During this period 44 General Occurrences were investigated, including nine thefts, one fraud, eight break and enters, eight damage complaints, five compassionate messages and one stolen truck recovered.

There were four traffic occurrences resulting in one injury.

A collision on September 17, at approximately 11:30 a.m., on a forest access road in Sherborne Township resulted in approximately $3,000 and no injuries. Dennis Wilson, age 25, of Haliburton and Michael Lawrence, age 27, of Dwight, collided on a narrow access road when they met at a curve.

On September 17, a stolen truck was recovered on the Bacon Rd., in Snowdon Township. This incident is being investigated jointly by Prov. Const. B. Dunham of the Minden detachment and Cobocok OPP from the area where the vehicle was stolen.

A break, enter and theft at a cottage on Twelve Mile Lake was reported on September 22. This occurrence involves approximately $3,000 in property and is being investigated by Prov. Const. W. Clendenning.

A single car accident on September 23, at approximately 12:30 a.m. resulted in the driver, William Travis, age 27, of Gooderham, receiving multiple injuries and being charged with failing to report an accident. Damage to the vehicle was approximately $2,000.

A pellet gun was used in the Buckside area to cause damage in excess of $500 to five cottages. Police remind parents that pellet and BB guns in the hands of children are responsible for a large number of damage complaints. These weapons should be handled by children under direct supervision of an adult.

Vehicle death down in last six months

Motor vehicle fatalities over the last six months of 1984 were down 18.1 percent against the same period last year, said Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow.

During the January - June period this year, 430 people were killed on Ontario roads - down from 525 in the first half of '83.

"The 1984 figures represent the lowest six-month fatality total since 1960 and can be attributed, at least in part, to the impact of anti-drinking/driving campaigns," Snow said.

"I suspect society at large is no longer willing to accept or tolerate people who drink and drive. It's been a long time coming, but I'm convinced it's a critical factor." And statistics from the Ministry of Revenue show fuel consumption during the first four months of the year was up 3.5 percent over 1983, a common indicator that Ontario residents are driving more.

"Oddly enough, an increase in fuel consumption usually goes hand-in-hand with an increase in the number of road deaths," Snow said. "That's a trend I'm pleased to see has been reversed."

Motorcycle fatalities provided the one bleak spot in the otherwise encouraging report. The number of motorcycle drivers killed rose to 47 from last year's first half total of 41, while passengers accounted for seven road deaths, one more than in 1983.

Bicycle and pedestrian deaths also declined marginally from 18 to 15 and 84 to 70, respectively.

These young cyclists started ahead of the runners in Sunday's fourth annual Terry Fox run in Haliburton. Participation was up in this year's event, but total funds raised declined from last year. Those who took part enjoyed the challenge however, and got a certificate to show for their effort.

TVO signal reaches county

A recently activated transmitter in the Huntsville area will bring programming from Ontario's educational television network to many residents of Haliburton County.

The transmitter, located about 10 miles south west of Huntsville, began broadcasting TV Ontario signals last Wednesday, on Channel 13. People with tower aerials and boosters should be able to receive reasonably good images from the transmitter, unless its signal is blocked by surrounding hills.

Subscribers to cable television in Haliburton and Minden already receive TV Ontario programming on Channel 6, but company owner Bob Bishop Jr. said he will switch to the Huntsville transmitter's signals in about two weeks. Subscribers should get good reception on Channel 13 once the changeover takes place, he said.

TV Ontario programming originates from Toronto and is listed as channel 19 in television guides.

Rhonda Elstone of Haliburton, who is a regional councillor for TV Ontario, said Monday that she would like people throughout the county to let her know how well they are receiving the signal, so that the transmitter's reach can be established. She can be contacted at 457-1328.

TV Ontario is a provincially funded educational network that carries a wide variety of quality programming, including documentaries, movies, consumer education and French language shows.

The committee also advocates updating of the agreement between the Orillia Water, Light and Power Company and the waterway to reflect current conditions. It wants underflow gates installed on all dams for more precise control of water discharge from the reservoir lakes, and it says a weir should be constructed to regulate water fluctuations in Shadow Lake once constraints have been removed from the Gull River. The committee also believes that studies should be undertaken to document the impact of water drawdown and fluctuating levels on lake trout, loons and other waterfowl.

With respect to the municipal role, the committee report recommends that the county develop an official plan and restructure to become more efficient and streamlined.

County council praised the committee members for the work that went into the study, and endorsed it unanimously.

The document will now be sent to various provincial and federal authorities in a bid to get action on at least some of its recommendations.

Minden council

Anson, Hindon and Minden council met September 13 and considered the following matters:

Wayne Cox attended council on behalf of the Minden Fair Board to discuss the allocation of the community centre rental costs resulting from the annual fair.

Permission was granted to the Minden Kinsmen Club to hold their annual Demolition Derby in the area to the north side of the upper parking area of the Minden Community Centre on October 6, 1984 provided that the grounds are left in a clean and tidy condition.

Permission was granted to Andrew Neal to construct a roadway on the concession allowance between Lots 5 and 6, Concession 8, Township of Minden, to access Lot 6, Concession 9, provided that: all surveying and construction is done entirely at the applicant's expense; the resultant roadway shall not be for the applicant's exclusive use but shall be open to all members of the public; the municipality will not be held responsible for the maintenance of the roadway; and that all wood cut be left for municipal use according to the road superintendent's direction.

Bee Clean Janitorial Services were retained for the year September 7/84 - September 6/85 for the purposes of cleaning the municipal offices and public washrooms at the following amounts: Municipal Offices (old and new), $3,544.00; Public Washrooms, $1,040.00; Total, $4,584.00.

A maintenance contract with Computerland to service Tallgrass Hardfile system for a one-year period commencing September 15, 1984 for the amount of $772.97 exclusive of mileage at the rate of 40 cents per km. was approved, and the reeve and clerk were authorized to execute it.

W.M. Jackson, Fire Chief, was present to discuss the proposed agreement changes concerning the existing fire protection agreement with the Township of Stanhope.

PWD accounts for the month of August, 1984, in the amount of $26,647.32 were approved for payment.

The following accounts were approved for payment: General, $301,753.51; Water, $21,414.67; and Sewer, $3,356.20.

The roads department was requested to arrange for the required relocation of the "Minden" sign presently situated on the north-east side of the Bobcaygeon Rd. S. in co-operation with the Minden BIA, the By-law Enforcement Officer and the Water and Sewer Chief Operator.

The parks department was requested to arrange for the landscaping of the grounds around the new ambulance hall.

The municipality agreed to act as sponsor for a Canada Works project, under the supervision of MNR, to run for a six-week period this fall and employ three persons. Program title is "Enhancement of Canoe Routes."

Beverly Millar was appointed to be responsible for Load Line Control inputs to the Emergency Planning Branch of the Ministry of the Solicitor General for the municipality.

Council agreed to authorize the brushing of the proposed Queen's Line right of way to permit the installation of hydro service at a cost to the municipality of $10,211, subject to verification of the contract terms, and provided that the municipality is bearing costs for brushing of municipal property only.

Council agreed in principle with providing $1,500 to organizers of a Minden Sled Dog Competition scheduled for January 1985 pending: a detailed proposal that will be submitted by the organizers showing event locations, trails to be used, co-operative agreements with the

Reconstruction

Reconstruction of Highway 507 south of Gooderham will continue to be carried out in stages, county council has learned. Replying to a letter of enquiry from the county, J.L. Forester, director of the Kingston region of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, said a further seven kilometres of the road will be rebuilt once the necessary property acquisitions have been completed. Forester said it is doubtful that the work will be carried out in 1985, but that it will be done as soon as possible.

Death penalty

County councillors have supported a resolution calling for a reinstatement of capital punishment in Canada. The resolution, from the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, calls on the federal government to reimpose the death penalty for first degree murder.

Councillors were quick to agree with the concept, although there was some divergence of opinion over how the matter should be handled at the federal level.

Snowdon reeve Bob Vick said he understood the new government would call for a free vote among MP's in the near future.

Lutterworth deputy reeve Glynne Lewis noted that three policemen have been killed in Ontario recently, and said capital punishment is needed to protect them.

Stanhope reeve Harry Davis agreed, pointing out that up to 85 percent of Canadians are thought to be in favour of the death penalty.

Bicroft reeve Bill Howe said that while he supported the idea of capital punishment, the matter should be decided by a national referendum rather than a parliamentary vote.

When a resolution to support the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry position was put to a vote, Howe, Monmouth deputy reeve Harry Clark, and Cardiff reeve Mac Peters cast nay votes because they felt the issue should be decided by the people, not by members of parliament.

Notice of council's support will be sent to various federal authorities.

Snow advised

A letter will be sent to provincial transportation minister James Snow asking the MTC to get involved in any decision about the future of the railway right-of-way through Haliburton County. Natural Resources minister Alan Pope said recently that his ministry has been put in charge of co-ordinating decisions on the future of the right-of-way, but council feels that since some municipalities may want to use portions of it for road purposes, Snow's ministry should also be involved.

A copy of county council's letter to Snow will also be sent to Pope.

Bridge plans in

Preliminary plans for a new bridge in Ingoldsby have been drawn up, and county council will now have final drawings and tender documents prepared. Precast beams for the new bridge will be ordered in this year's county roads budget, with construction of the new bridge expected to be carried out next spring, engineer Bill Obee said.

Rabies clinic planned

The local health unit will conduct a rabies vaccination clinic in Haliburton County next year. Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman, county council's representative on the health unit, said two positive cases of rabies in animals have been documented in Haliburton County so far this year. While that does not indicate that the disease is increasing among wildlife in the area, the clinics will be held as a precautionary measure, particularly since rabies is a growing problem in south western Ontario, Tallman said.

A matter of decorum

County councillors were reminded last Wednesday that certain rules of decorum must be observed when council is in session. In outlining an updated procedural by-law which was later passed by council, Stanhope reeve Harry Davis read some of the key points to council at the request of Warden Lyle McKnight. Davis noted that councillors sometimes forget that they are required by the by-law to address each other through the warden as Mr., Mrs. or Ms. rather than on a first name basis. As well, councillors must wait for acknowledgement from the chair before speaking, and must stand up when they address comments through the warden to council.

The new by-law represents the first procedural update in 110 years, the original by-law having been passed in February, 1874.

Hiring policy

Haliburton County's road committee will re-examine its policy on truck hiring after a proposed amendment to the governing by-law failed to find consensus at the county council table. The amendment would have dropped a clause in the policy which said that equipment operated as a sole means of income would take precedence over machines and trucks that provide "an identifiable" secondary income for their owners. Road committee chairman Bill Howe said a legal opinion indicated that the clause was not discriminatory, but the proposed amendment would remove it from the policy statement because it advocated a "discriminatory approach" to hiring.

County engineer Bill Obee said the intent was to eliminate the secondary means of income statement and attempt to equalize hiring on the basis of hours worked. That would mean that a person owning three trucks hired for one day would have a cumulative total of three days worked, Obee explained.

Council was uneasy about merely dropping one clause in a policy statement attached to its hiring by-law, and decided instead to review the whole document and bring it back in a revised form to the November session.

Margaret Birch, a former provincial cabinet minister and assistant to Premier William Davis attended the official opening of the Jean A. Chalmers bicentennial collection at the Rails End Gallery on Friday.

County opts for a study of consolidated welfare

Haliburton County council will ask the provincial ministry of Community and Social Services to study the benefits of consolidating the welfare delivery system in Haliburton County. Council made the decision last Wednesday after hearing a presentation on the subject from M.R. Driscoll, administrative supervisor in the province's municipal welfare secretariat.

Only five counties in Ontario do not use a consolidated welfare delivery system, Driscoll said. In Haliburton County, as in the other four counties, welfare is administered by each municipality, with the deputy clerk or some other municipal employee dealing with requests for welfare assistance.

Under a consolidated system, welfare would be administered at the county level by a full time staff working under county council supervision. While consolidation would have some drawbacks, including higher administrative costs and a somewhat less 'personal' approach to individual cases, there also would be a number of benefits, Driscoll said. Welfare would be distributed more equitably at the county level, he said, and that would not necessarily mean more people would receive it than under the municipal delivery system. He cited as an example the town of Petrolia in south western Ontario where consolidation of the delivery system reduced the case load by almost two thirds.

"There is an objective view taken," Driscoll said, and "more attention is paid to moving people from welfare into family benefit programs and employment."

In a consolidated system, administrative costs are subsidized at a rate of 50 percent by the provincial government, while under the existing municipal delivery system, administrative costs must be borne by the municipality, Driscoll noted.

Costs of a consolidated county welfare system would be assessed to each municipality according to its equalized assessment, the same method that is used to determine municipal contributions to other county expenditures. Some municipalities would end up paying more to support the system than they would get back in the form of benefits to their ratepayers, but that is "a fact of life," Driscoll said.

Consolidation also would allow for better planning and the provision of more services than are available at the municipal level, Driscoll noted.

Driscoll said his department has "met a great deal of opposition" to consolidation in other areas, but opposition changes to wholehearted support once the system is in place and its advantages are recognized.

Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell asked Driscoll jokingly if any reeves "have been shot" by irate welfare seekers in jurisdictions that do not have a consolidated delivery system. The provincial official replied that while nothing so drastic has happened, "there have been some severe criticisms of attitudes in certain jurisdictions."

Asked if more complaints about welfare delivery are lodged in unconsolidated areas, Driscoll replied that while the number of complaints vary, over a 10 year period, "the answer is yes."

When the matter of carrying out a study was put to a vote, it was supported by the majority of county councillors. Nay votes were registered by Snowdon reeve Bob Vick, deputy reeve Dwain Wruth, Glamorgan reeve Bob McCausland and deputy reeve Jane Franklin.

The study will be completed at no cost to the county by officials from the Ministry of Community and Social Services, and a report will be presented to county council. The matter then will be debated by individual councils before a vote on whether or not to proceed with consolidation is called at the county level.

Cardiff to remain in county system

Haliburton County council has rejected a bid by Cardiff Township to opt out of the county road system. The matter came to a vote last Wednesday after management committee chairman Murray Fearrey reported on studies carried out as a result of Cardiff's proposal.

The Dysart et al reeve said the committee "spent a fair amount of time addressing this situation" and came to the conclusion that Cardiff ratepayers do not suffer any undue hardship by having to contribute on an apportionment basis to the county roads system.

Cardiff argued earlier in a submission to the management committee that over the past two years the value of maintenance work carried out on county roads in Cardiff was less than the township's contribution to the system, and that the municipality could maintain roads more cheaply than the county on a per mile basis.

Fearrey said county clerk Winn Lahay and engineer Bill Obee prepared charts showing Cardiff's contribution and county roads spending in the township over the past 10 years. The exercise indicated that while Cardiff's levy to the county roads system over the past decade totalled $218,000, some $356,000 was spent by the county roads department within the boundaries of Cardiff Township.

"That is better than many townships, not worse," Fearrey said. He noted that it might be possible for any municipality to argue that it experienced hardship on a year to year, contribution versus expenditure basis, but that it is "a very difficult thing to divide the pie evenly."

Cardiff deputy reeve Ross Duncan asked for copies of the charts prepared for the management committee, but emphasized that his township was more concerned with per mile costs than with the contribution and expenditure balance.

The management committee chairman responded that while the county roads department has some built in overhead costs that municipalities may not have, and thus may appear less efficient, the county is eligible for provincial subsidies that are not available to individual municipalities.

Fearrey said the committee did not know what level of maintenance Cardiff accepted on its own roads, but said this would be a factor in establishing per mile costs. Frequency and width of plowing, as well as the number of times a particular road is patrolled influence overall costs per mile, he noted.

Fearrey said that if Cardiff came back to the committee with alternatives other than opting out of the system entirely, they would be considered.

His recommendation that Cardiff not be allowed to bow out of the county roads system was supported by council, with dissenting votes cast by Cardiff reeve Mac Peters and deputy reeve Ross Duncan.

An invitation to enjoy autumn

Autumn colours are spreading over the hillsides of Haliburton County, and should reach their peak by the Thanksgiving weekend. To help local residents and visitors to the area make the most of a beautiful season, the Haliburton County Echo, in co operation with more than a hundred businesses throughout the Highlands, has once again put together a supplement outlining scenic tours and showing some of the sights that will be encountered along the way.

The supplement has been included in this week's issue of the Echo, and additional copies have been distributed to stores and lodges, where they will be available free to visitors.

We hope readers get as much pleasure out of using the supplement as we found in creating it.

Signs of change

Change comes slowly to Haliburton County, especially where certain entrenched attitudes are concerned, and that may not always be a bad thing. It gives the county a certain predictability and stability when elsewhere all is flux. This stubborn resistance is perhaps no where better observed than around the tables where local politicians gather to manage the public interest and guard the public purse. Lately, however, there have been signs that even the most conservative views may be open if not to outright rejection then at least to honest questioning.

There is, for example, the matter of welfare. It is a fact of life in Canada that some people need financial help from society and welfare is one means by which that help is offered. But it is also a fact that welfare is open to abuse, and it is the abusers who invariably give rise to councillors' unease. The prevailing attitude has been that the system in Haliburton County whereby local municipalities administer welfare is the best system for weeding out the undeserving. That system has been challenged several times in the past by people with a particular interest in social services and the disadvantaged, but always county council has opted for the status quo.

Always, that is, until last Wednesday, when council agreed to take a look at the costs and possible benefits of consolidating the welfare delivery system. While the decision was not unanimous, four councillors having registered nay votes, it is a sign that new attitudes and recognition of wider realities are emerging.

Of course merely voting to permit a study to be undertaken at no direct cost to the county does not mean that council has committed itself to consolidating the welfare delivery system. That is a matter for further debate once the study has been completed. But the very fact that council would opt for the study is a sign that old attitudes are being altered by broader experience and a wider view. And that can only bode well for the county's future.

Confidence

Haliburton County council's support for the Chamber of Commerce has lifted a dark cloud that has hung over the Chamber since July, when concerns about its effectiveness were raised at the county council table. The Chamber can now get on with the challenges of promoting Haliburton County, secure in the knowledge that if it keeps the lines of communication with county council open, it can expect substantial financial assistance from county coffers.

The only shadow which still lingers is the fact that council's support was more tacit than concrete. None of the serious criticisms levelled earlier by Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell were retracted last Wednesday. Instead, Gambell said only that he would not comment because he had a conflict of interest, although the nature of that conflict was never spelled out. If it had been, his earlier statements about the chamber might have been given a perspective that is otherwise lacking.

Council did, however, agree to provide up to $15,000 for a new building to house the Chamber, a move which indicates that councillors feel the organization has an important role to play in Haliburton County. Having made that commitment, council and the Chamber should now be able to turn their attention to more important tasks.

Letters to the Editor

Reader praises volunteer firemen

To The Editor:

I am writing a letter to you, the editor, to exclaim about the Haliburton Fire Department.

Our house was struck by lightning last Thursday morning. A fire started in the basement which my son could not extinguish. I phoned the operator and in spite of a mix-up over fire departments, the Haliburton Fire Department arrived promptly on the scene with a contingent of 23 men. By 7 a.m. the fire was out. The fire department was efficient, courteous, careful of my property and of their own persons.

Considering that our department is mainly composed of volunteers I am even more impressed.

It is a comfort to know, that we have such a community group of conscientious men, in our area.

Yours very sincerely,
Audrey L. Chambers

To The Editor:

Re: the letter from Gerry Feltham in the September 12 issue:

We do not promote nuclear hostilities. As U.S. President Ford said, "The way to peace is to be strong." If we are not prepared to defend our position our days are numbered. Happenings in Afghanistan bear this out. Let us learn all things about nuclear survival.

Yours very truly,
Don J. Reed,

There was some very good news last week for everyone who finds usual television fare unpalatable, and who wishes they could tune in to some of the better programming offered by educational broadcasting systems such as PBS in the northern U.S. TV Ontario has installed a transmitter near Huntsville to repeat signals originating from Channel 19 in Toronto, and the signals can be picked up in many parts of Haliburton County by people who have tower aerials and boosters. Cable subscribers in Minden and Haliburton have had TV Ontario on their dial all along, but the new transmitter is expected to improve the quality of their reception as well.

Installation of the TVO transmitter near Huntsville came about as a result of a determined lobby effort by citizens of the area. It is a happy event for people in this area as well, since it now gives us access to some intelligent and thought provoking as well as entertaining programming that is not available from any other source.

A lobby group is working in the Bancroft area to try to get TVO service in that area as well. If they are successful, people east of Haliburton should be able to pick up that signal. For many people, access to TVO service can't come too soon.

As one of the 50 or so people who took part in the Terry Fox run on Sunday, I felt a sense of elation and a measure of disappointment. The elation came from running the 10 kilometre distance in a little over 55 minutes. That isn't exactly a blistering pace, but it did make all the mornings of jogging three or four miles before breakfast seem worthwhile. The disappointment came when I reflected on the fact that so few people bothered to take part. The absence of young people was particularly unfortunate. In a time when the benefits of regular, vigorous exercise are so well known, it is depressing to realize how few local teenagers are forming fitness habits.

It appears to us that the Highlands of Haliburton never receive the recognition, publicity and news coverage which we so rightly deserve. We always seem to be the forgotten county. I think we can see a bit of improvement in this area but in my estimation there is still a long way to go. I have mentioned this problem on many other occasions but I seem to have to bring it up every time I hear someone mention neighbouring communities and our name is left out. It's no secret and you would be surprised at the number of people who reside in Toronto, which is only 140 miles from here, and have never heard of Haliburton. I have heard other people mention this same thing and I have asked various people in Toronto if they ever hear of Haliburton and I think many of them think that it's up in the Yukon. How many times on the radio and TV have you heard about Muskoka and other tourist areas, but seldom a mention of the Highlands of Haliburton. It's just about time that we received a break in this direction.

It was youth night at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Ken Langdon spoke to the young visitors inviting them to remember the Rotary Exchange program. The club is looking for the average student. Maaike Sypkens, the Haliburton Rotary Club's exchange student from Holland, told the group how happy she was to be here. Angela Googh, the 1983/84 exchange student of the Minden Club, told of her year in the southeast part of Australia, living in a small farming community. She said that her year as a Rotary Exchange student was the greatest year of her life. She was an excellent speaker and an exceptional ambassador for the Minden club.

It is really gratifying to note just how well the Salvation Army is supported. People from all walks of life and from every section of Haliburton County support it every May when the Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign usually exceeds its objective. Every day when I walk back and forth to work I can't help but notice the bags of used clothing stored in the large box at the side of the building near the back door; and when it is full the other bags are usually piled up at the back door of the Salvation Army Hall. This clothing is given to needy families in this community and other centres or sold at one of their rummage sales. It's great to see people who care for other people and this is where the Salvation Army steps in to do their work. They help people who, in many cases, are down and out and need help.

From time to time the Echo is in need of old photos for our Pic of the Past each week. If you have any in your possession that we could use and that would be of interest to our readers we would certainly like to hear from you. The more information you can supply us with on each photo would be of a great benefit to us.

On Sunday, October 7 a group of musicians made up of members from Sundridge, Port Sydney, Guelph and Huntsville will be coming to Haliburton to sing and play gospel music for the residents of Extencicare. Family members who have relatives at Extencicare are invited to be present for this musical program which gets underway at 2:00 p.m.

Many local hockey fans were disappointed last week when it was announced that the Haliburton Northernways Huskies would not be operating for the 1984-85 season due to the lack of players. In conversation with Scott LaRue, the president of the hockey club, he told me that they were only averaging 12 players out to each workout and this fell far below the number of 25 needed in which to choose a team. It appears that there are several juvenile hockey players in the area and that a juvenile team will be formed, playing in a league and acting as the main team this year in the village of Haliburton. It is expected that Haliburton will be back in Junior hockey when enough players become available to ice a team.

I dropped into the arena at Haliburton last Thursday night and the arena manager, Don Lloyd gave me a royal tour of the building, pointing out the many renovations that are presently being made to the building by John Beachli Constuction Ltd. of Haliburton. Even though these renovations are being made the activities are still carrying on. When I was present in the building the G.W. Martin Lumber Ltd. Industrial League hockey club were getting ready to take to the ice for practice. The lobby is being changed and enlarged, new washrooms are being installed and new dressing rooms are being constructed. So when you take in your first event at the arena this coming fall you will notice many changes. Don Lloyd was telling me that the arena could be in for another busy season as ice time is being booked up daily. It would also appear that minor hockey registration is going to be up over a year ago and there seems to be a great deal of enthusiasm with the Haliburton Figure Skating Club. The Haliburton Industrial League will also soon be swinging into action.

Question

By CATHERINE DENHOLM

Will the Queen be coming to dinner?

In a recent description of the food preparation for the Queen's visit the caption read "Isn't that a dainty dish to set before a Queen". This suggests the reason that such detailed preparations have to be made months and months in advance of a royal visit.

The care taken with every meal is far beyond that for any other person in the world. Is it because kings and queens and princesses are from fairy tales and they still belong in the land of make believe?

They are back there in the stories of our childhood. They lived in castles, had lots of servants, could only eat the finest of food, wear the best of clothes and live surrounded with the best of everything. They were beautiful and brave and fragile. They could never last in the ordinary world. The royal family of England does live in castles, have lots of servants; they require special planes, special cars, special boats and especially prepared food.

Buckingham Palace sends out directions about the food, likes and dislikes, and its preparations.

Their meals will be at the very best places across Canada where there are the best chefs in kitchens which are the cleanest and most sanitary of any in any country. Even so all the places where the Queen will eat must be inspected. All chefs and all food handlers require medical examinations complete with stool samples. All the places which supply food are inspected. She brings her own brand of drinking water; some of that comes early for her ice cubes.

Almost all people comply with these regulations not through fear that, as in the stories, she will "off with their heads" but because it is seen as a privilege to make any contribution to the comfort of this particular family.

Most people are glad to help and many are glad to watch them go through their precision-timed days with the royal speeches, walks and waves. It is good theatre. In each city she accepts the curtsies and bows of the important people of her realm. She appears in beautiful gowns with jewels and a glittering tiara for state dinners.

The crowds of ordinary folk who gather to watch are back again, for awhile, in the make-believe land of the fairy tales.

A Salute to a Great Lady

In the village of Oxtongue there lives a lady who quietly goes about helping her fellow man without even a thought of thanks or payment for the service she provides.

Her friends and neighbours have asked if we would please pass on their thanks in some special way that would show how much they care and just how much they appreciate her efforts.

Her name is Janet Brown and her long list of contributions to the community is as follows:

- she has set up and organized a committee to operate a nursery school and day camp at the community centre and has arranged grants to cover the cost.
- set up a library with the help of a committee
- has had playground equipment built and a sign

Report from Parliament

By Bill Scott M.P.

First of all, I want to thank all of the residents of Victoria-Haliburton for the overwhelming vote of confidence you gave me on September 4. I shall try my best to be worthy of your support throughout this the 33rd Parliament of Canada.

For the first time in many years, the Cabinet will contain Members from every Province and region of Canada. There is a very good mix of experience and ability which I am sure will prove a unifying force for our country.

I am quite pleased that the Right Honourable Brian Mulroney chose to start fulfilling his campaign ideas right from the start. The creation of new Ministers of State for Forestry and Tourism are concrete examples of the immediate action promised. These two new Ministries have been suggested by our Party and by myself in the last Parliament to add stimulus to these vital areas of our economy.

Here is the list of the new Cabinet: The Right Honourable Martin Brian Mulroney, Prime Minister; The Honourable George Harris Hees, Minister of Veterans Affairs; The Honourable Duff Roblin, Leader of the Government in the Senate; The Right Honourable Charles Joseph Clark, Secretary of State for External Affairs; The Honourable Flora Isabel MacDonald, Minister of Employment and Immigration; The Honourable Erik H. Nielsen, Deputy Prime Minister and President of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada; The Honourable John Carnell Crosbie, Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada; The Honourable Roch LaSalle, Minister of Public Works; The Honourable Donald Frank Mazankowski, Minister of Transport; The Honourable Elmer MacIntosh MacKay, Solicitor General of Canada; The Honourable Arthur Jacob Epp, Minister of National Health and Welfare; The Honourable John Allen Fraser, Minister of Fisheries and Oceans; The Honourable Sinclair McKnight Stevens, Minister of Regional Industrial Expansion; The Honourable John Wise, Minister of Agriculture; The Honourable Ramon John Hnatyshyn, Minister of State (Government House Leader); The Honourable David Edward Crombie, Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development; The Honourable Robert R. de Cotret, President of the Treasury Board; The Honourable Perrin Beatty, Minister of National Revenue; The Honourable Michael Holcombe Wilson, Minister of Finance; The Honourable Robert Carman Coates, Minister of National Defence; The Honourable Jack Burnett Murta, Minister of State (Multiculturalism); The Honourable Harvie Andre, Minister of Supply and Services; The Honourable Otto John Jelinek, Minister of State (Fitness and Amateur Sport); The Honourable Thomas Edward Siddon, Minister of State for Science and Technology; The Honourable Charles James Mayer, Minister of State (Canadian Wheat Board); The Honourable William Hunter McKnight, Minister of Labour; The Honourable Rev. Walter Franklin McLean, Secretary of State for Canada; The Honourable Thomas Michael McMillan, Minister of State (Tourism); The Honourable Patricia Carney, Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources; The Honourable Andre Bissonnette, Minister of State (Small Businesses); The Honourable Suzanne Blais-Grenier, Minister of the Environment; The Honourable Benoit Bouchard, Minister of State (Transport); The Honourable Andree Champagne, Minister of State (Youth); The Honourable Michel Cote, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs; The Honourable James Francis Kelleher, Minister for International Trade; The Honourable Robert E. Layton, Minister of State (Mines); The Honourable Marcel Masse, Minister of Communications; The Honourable Barbara Jean McDougall, Minister of State (Finance); The Honourable Gerald S. Merrithew, Minister of State (Forestry); The Honourable Monique Vezina, Minister for External Relations.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

By ARLIN HACKMAN

One of the lighter moments of the last provincial legislature was private member's bill 159 proposing adoption of the mosquito as an official Ontario insect emblem. This time of year it's safe to joke about such things. But as the people of Winnipeg know from their bitter spray war, we haven't yet reached a friendly accord with the voracious creature.

In fact, many scientists now say we are on the losing side of the struggle world wide. It's not just a matter of more itching but a range of alarming developments including the rise of malaria and dengue fever, declining effectiveness of drugs to treat these mosquito-borne diseases, mosquito resistance to insecticides and a growing incidence in North America of equine encephalitis, a disease fatal to horses.

We're not giving up, of course. Researchers are pressing ahead with all kinds of new insecticides and repellents. And around the world, knowledge of the mosquitoes' breeding habits, sensory systems and behaviour are steadily mounting. But the perfect repellent has yet to appear from the past 25 years of research. At the same time, the rapidly breeding insect is outdistancing insecticides as fast as we develop them. In every large mosquito population a few which survive are naturally resistant to a particular chemical. Their genes are inherited by offspring which quickly repopulate the area.

There are other disadvantages to reliance on chemicals. In a pioneering American assessment of the environmental and social costs of pesticides of all kinds, reported in 1980, scientists came up with some startling though still preliminary figures: $45,000 annual non-fatal and fatal human pesticide poisonings, $12,000,000 in livestock losses, $287,000,000 in reduced natural enemies and resistance, $135,000,000 in honeybee poisonings and reduced pollination, $11,000,000 in fish and wildlife losses and $140,000,000 in miscellaneous losses, for a staggering total of $839,000,000 each year. This accounting is by no means complete either. No wonder people in Winnipeg fought back against the well-publicized low-level aerial spraying in their city two summers ago.

There may well be some magic chemical cure still out there awaiting discovery. But there are good reasons to intensify the research in other directions. A small scale experiment with a natural mosquito enemy, the dragonfly, lends weight to this approach. Some years ago, the voters in Wells, Maine rejected a municipal proposal to spend $6,000 on a helicopter and spray. Instead, nearly 200 residents purchased $2,400 worth of dragonfly nymphs which they placed in prime mosquito breeding waters. The nymphs can consume more than 3,000 mosquito larvae an hour. A followup survey indicated the experiment was successful and prompted a larger scale effort the next year as well as a major scientific research program. Residents point out that the dragonflies were effective all summer and argue that chemicals often kill more of such predator species than they do mosquitoes.

Yes you can fight City Hall. Public support is also vital to ensure that chemicals are used sparingly and alternative, more benign controls are found. Until then it's unlikely an Insect Emblem Act exalting the mosquito will ever get beyond first reading in our legislature.

Earlier this summer, I reported on the declining black duck population and the lack of specific controls on the hunt in Ontario. Since then, 1984 hunting regulations have appeared which restrict the take to two ducks per day in northern Ontario and one duck per day in southern Ontario, with hunters being allowed to have four in possession across the province.

Redmen beat Fenelon Falls, face Brock at home Friday

The well worn adage about practice making perfect doesn't often apply to football, since it's a game with countless variables, but in the case of Haliburton high school's teams, a week of hard practice did spell the difference between victory and defeat.

The Redmen began their season with a pair of losses, but they put the poor start aside last Friday when they travelled to Fenelon Falls and came home winners. For the Juniors it was a grinding 18-12 win, while for the seniors the day proved a little easier, as they passed and ran to a 15-0 victory.

Juniors on track
Andrew Burk was the biggest factor in the Junior Redmen's eventual domination of their Fenelon Falls opponents. Burk scored all three touchdowns and carried the ball 17 times, grinding out 133 yards.

Fenelon Falls got the opening advantage as they received Haliburton's kickoff and moved the ball to the Redmen's 40 yard line before Ian Cooper snagged an interception to nullify the home team threat.

For the rest of the opening quarter the ball changed hands regularly, with both sides able to keep their opponent's offense to a minimum.

Haliburton got on the board first in the second quarter. The scoring was set up when Ian Cooper caught two successive passes from quarterback Tom McLeod, the first for 30 yards and the second a 20 yard grab that put the ball on the Fenelon Falls 35 yard line. Andrew Burk then made it 6-0 on a sweep. The convert attempt was missed.

On the next series Haliburton stopped Fenelon cold, but with the ball at midfield and the Redmen on the offensive, Fenelon intercepted a pass. The next play resulted in a 70 yard touchdown run that tied the score at six apiece, and it remained that way when the convert attempt failed.

The only scoring in the third quarter was set up by an Andrew Burk tackle that caused the Fenelon Falls ball carrier to fumble on his own 35 yard line. Three plays later Burk carried the ball into the endzone for his second touchdown of the game and the Redmen were leading 12-6.

Fenelon Falls evened the score early in the fourth quarter, set up by a 30 yard passing play deep in the Haliburton zone. An attempt at a two point conversion was missed, leaving the teams tied at 12 apiece.

The Fenelon Falls squad threatened again later in the quarter, but the Redmen's defense was equal to the pressure and kept the score even.

Haliburton's third touchdown was set up by a 30 yard pass from McLeod to Cooper. Andrew Burk then carried Haliburton high school's Junior soccer team saw action last Wednesday afternoon in a home game against Lindsay Collegiate. The local boys put out a good effort but lost 2-0. This Wednesday they'll play their last home game before rounding out the season with three games on the road.

Soccer tourney was successful

The West Rouge Blues played a big part in making the Dixie Lee soccer tournament a success this past weekend. They played two good games, hosted a party and gave the Haliburton soccer club some fine ideas for organizing.

On Saturday afternoon the Blues played a high school senior team which included one college player and a few juniors. The Blues won 2-0 while demonstrating some tricky moves, good ball control and neat passing plays. The high school seniors should benefit from the extra experience as they look for their second league championship.

On Sunday the Blues played Dixie Lee to a 3-3 tie. The Haliburton team, playing with the wind, built up a 3-0 lead in the first half on two goals by Mike Hatkoski and one by Glen Scully which was headed in from a corner kick. As the wind picked up in the second half the Blues pinned Dixie Lee in their half of the field for long periods and finally tied the game with two quick goals with about five minutes remaining.

Dixie Lee used their older players for the game but two high school players spelled off for the Blues and were made to feel a part of their team.

The Haliburton Club would like to thank Brian Holden for organizing the fund raising which when complete will provide more than $50 for the Terry Fox Fund. Audrey Holden was the gracious hostess for the teams. Ariel Bellosillo donated his services as referee and kept both teams in good humour. Before each game the Blues presented their team crests to their opponents.

Dixie Lee will practise Thursday night at 6:30 in Haliburton and travel to a sudden death play-off game Sunday against an opponent to be announced.

The action is a little unusual here, but players often found themselves tangled up last Wednesday as they went for the ball during soccer games between HHSS and LCVI.

Senior soccer team earns win at home

Haliburton high school's senior soccer team chalked up their second win of the season last Wednesday to remain undefeated. The team was at home against LCVI and had a relatively easy time of it, playing to a 3-0 win.

Scoring for the Haliburton team were Scooter Burgess,

Chris Laporte and Dave McColl.

Haliburton also got strong play from Bernie Upton and Eion Ross at midfield and Lenny Johnston at forward. The junior team also met LCVI, but the results were not as favourable, as the visitors played to a 2-0 win.

This Wednesday Haliburton will be at home for the last time before the playoffs. They will face Fenelon Falls, whose senior team also is undefeated.

Daisies lead afternoon bowling league

The second week of Wednesday afternoon Flower League bowling has the Daisies leading with 12 points, followed by the Roses with 11 points. Next comes the Petunias with 7 points, Marigolds with 5 points, Asters with 4 points and the Forget-Me-Not, 3 points.

Wilbert Gibbs had a high single for the men with a 258 and Mima Burwood bowled a 234.

Bowlers over 200 so far this season are: Ev. Stata, 241-218-200; Freida Handy, 232-281; Joan Brown, 205; Lois Whittaker, 202; Laura Carnegie, 200; Audrey Fountain, 244-228; Harry Henderson, 249-204-219; Dorothy Baker, 200; Dorothy Stirrett, 211; Laura Fagan, 223; Mima Burwood, 234; Wilbert Gibbs, 258.

MNR is cooperating with trappers group

The Ontario Trappers' Association will have increasing responsibility and control over provincial fur resources management under a new co-operative agreement signed with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The OTA's role will continue to expand into the following areas:

- the determination of quotas;
- setting seasons;
- trapper and public education;
- training and research;
- sharing biological information;
- distributing registered trappings; and,
- the establishment and administration of a private lands fur management program.

Minister Alan Pope said that while the government must assume ultimate responsibility, it is willing to increasingly share many fur management responsibilities with the Ontario Trappers' Association in the future.

Mr. Pope said the OTA has already shown itself to be a capable manager of several provincial fur programs. The OTA has been heavily involved in trapper education programs and in the development and implementation of the new private lands fur management program.

The OTA recently hired a full-time chief trapper instructor who will place increasing emphasis on both humane trapping and trapping ethics.

The increased role played by the association is being aided by revenue generated from the sale of a trappers' manual, related publications, and new funds being generated within the Ontario Trappers' Association directed to the special fund set up by the OTA for trapper and public education.

In the past several years, the ministry has also entered into co-operative resource management projects with angling groups, local provincial parks enthusiasts, hunting clubs, naturalist groups, the forest and mining companies, private corporations, schools and municipalities.

Trent Severn News

On Monday, September 17 the stored water in Haliburton Lakes stood at 58.6%, down 4.3% from the preceding week. This was still 5.5% or so above the 1970-79 average and 16.5% more than 1983. Gull and Burnt River flows have been maintained at high levels this week (to September 21) to get closer to the average while drier conditions are prevailing.

This dry weather did affect the Kawartha Lakes too so that flow reductions were needed on the Otonabee River and the Trent. By the 21st the decline in their level had been arrested at about the middle of the respective navigation ranges. The flow which had been higher, than the long-term September average has been reduced over this time period to very near this average of 36.6 cubic metres.

The ball was flying around the playing field at HHSS last Wednesday during the heat of a soccer game between the home team and LCVI. Haliburton's senior team got their second win of the season while the junior squad had to settle for a 2-0 defeat.

Redmen chalk up their first win the ball around the end on a sweep to score what proved to be the decisive six points in the game.

Final score was 18-12 for the Redmen. Quarterback Tom McLeod was good on five of eight pass attempts for 93 yards, with Cooper making all five receptions.

Seniors earn shutout
The Senior Redmen put together a good game in both departments on Friday, eliminating the miscues that cost them the chance to win in the season opener the week before.

The opening quarter produced no scoring for either side, but the best opportunity went to Fenelon, who blocked a Haliburton punt on the Redmen's 20 yard line and recovered it within striking distance of the goal line. A good defensive effort from Paul Allore, Terry Sicard and Mike Blake negated the Fenelon threat.

Haliburton got on the scoreboard in the second quarter when Kevin Smith blocked a punt and it was picked up on the 35 yard line by Paul Allore, who ran it in for the touchdown. Trevor Powers was good on the convert attempt, giving the Redmen a 7-0 lead.

Fenelon Falls got another opportunity to score in the second quarter, marching the ball to the Redmen's 17 yard line, but once again defensive players Terry Hobden, Darrell Ward, Peter Allore and Wade Woodward kept the ball out of the endzone.

Haliburton got another chance late in the first half on a 40 yard pass and run play but the ball was dropped, leaving the score 7-0 at half time.

The only scoring in the third quarter came on a missed field goal attempt from 15 yards out that resulted in a single point for the Redmen.

In the fourth quarter, Mike MacNaull ran 70 yards for a touchdown but the play was called back to the 15 yard line for a clipping offense. Two plays later Rob McLeod scored the second touchdown of the game on a trap play. Trevor Powers was good on the convert, giving the Redmen a 15-0 advantage.

Mike MacNaull led the offense with 20 carries for 176 yards. Total rushing offense for the Redmen was an impressive 287 yards.

Trevor Powers was good on five out of seven passing attempts for 37 yards.

The Redmen also got good games on offense from Shaun Allore, Rob Mifflin, Peter Allore, Glen Hall, and Terry Hobden. Playing solidly on defense were Mike Blake, Terry Hobden and Kevin Smith.

This Friday the Redmen will play their first home game against Brock. The action gets underway at 2 p.m. when the Seniors will take to the field.

Club attracts members

A campaign by the Haliburton squash club to attract new members "is really going well," according to club president Ken Rydman. To date, 25 people have taken advantage of the offer of three months unlimited use of the club's courts, a racquet, ball, safety glasses and sports bag for $50.

A clinic to teach new members the fundamentals of the game was held Monday night, and was well attended. This Friday, September 28, the club will host an open house from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at which anyone in the community is welcome. There will be an opportunity to view squash and meet members of the club.

The club expects to continue the $50 new membership offer through October.

Minden council

HCSA, the BIA, etc., and a volunteers list suitable to manage all events.

Councillor G. Kenney filed a discussion paper with council concerning the impact of the change in location of the Minden IGA on our business community, the responsibilities of council and the Planning Advisory Committee during the planning of such a move, and the implications of this change on our proposed Official Plan. Councillor Kenney tabled the following resolution: "A report be requested from the Planning Advisory Committee detailing when the Hwy. 35 property in question was reviewed by them, and what provisions if any may be recommended to forestall the inevitable expansion of duplicate retail services that will spring up around a grocery operation that attracts hundreds of car loads of customers each day of the peak business season." The motion was not seconded.

The discussion paper will be referred to the Planning Advisory Committee for review and comment.

Permission was granted to Tom Prentice under the auspices of the Minden Kinsmen Club, to hold ice races on the track area of the fair grounds during the 1984/85 season, on Carnival weekend and at other such times as may be decided, provided that all warm-ups and racing does not commence on Sundays until after 12:00 noon and that the parking area and municipal roadway not be used by the participants for warm-ups or practice runs.

The clerk was directed to contact Mrs. E. Crawford and arrange a meeting with all members of council to attempt to resolve the problems surrounding the construction of the Taylor Road.

Stanhope council

At a meeting September 12, Stanhope Township council considered the following matters:

Council approved of severance applications H 151/84 and H152/84 conditional upon the severed parcels becoming part of the adjoining cottage lots and being included as such in the deeds.

Council approved payment of Ontario Home Renewal Program accounts totalling $24,300.00 as recommended by the Ontario Home Renewal Committee.

Council agreed in principle with a proposal by H. Kirkconnell to stop up, close and convey a portion of original allowance along the shore of Boshkung Lake for road fronting lot 12 concession 5, Stanhope Township. This approval is subject to Mr. Kirkconnell's agreement to the method the southern lot line is extended to the high water mark.

Council endorsed a maximum speed limit of 9 K.P.H. on the narrows between Little Boshkung Lake and Big Boshkung Lake in the Township of Stanhope. Council agreed to assume responsibility for the purchase, placement and maintenance of all necessary signs.

Gawunk! Gawunk!

I suppose some of you think it rather curious that people who live year round in Haliburton, would be so bewitched by Algonquin Park. But, rest assured, our love for the Park, only lasts for three days and nights. We've toyed with the idea of staying a week. But, each year, after the third day, we are all hiked out, and stuffed as the proverbial turkey.

Algonquin is our annual anniversary gift to ourselves. It pampers us with three exquisite meals a day that I have no hand in preparing. It refreshes us with canoe trips we don't have to squeeze in between the work load. It exhausts and enervates us with hikes that include some pretty stiff climbs. It takes us into the almost wilderness just a few hundred feet off the highway 60 corridor. It is, in a word, nervana.

Mind you, I wouldn't be caught dead there in mid-summer. They claim 100,000 people go through the park in summer. Hiking through the Beaver Pond Trail with 65 other folks in assorted sizes is not my idea of a peaceful vacation. What with all those candy wrappers and hollering kids, it's hard to pretend you're alone, meditating with nature.

But, our three days in September are perfect. The lodge is full up, but you never see anyone except at mealtime, when people converge on the dining room like hungry animals coming out of hibernation, anxious for their first meal. It's like that three times a day. We can't figure it out. No matter how over-stuffed we've felt at the previous sitting, moaning after downing the last forkful of real, homemade rhubarb pie a la calories, we still find out tummies growling with anticipation as the next mealtime approaches. And thanks to the hikes, we never gain a pound there.

Even the weatherman knew it was our special time. It only showered during our meals. By the time we donned our hiking boots, the sun returned. We never had to play a board (or bored) game. We had our small adventures, like the incident of the key on the table, the duck that walked on water, and what are we going to do with all those peanuts. Ah...Gawunk...by the way...Gawunk...we saw...Gawunk...two moose...Gawunk! And Gawunk, if you are interested, according to "The Raven", Algonquin Park's newsletter, is the mating call of the bull.

Fairground washrooms to improve

Washroom facilities at the Minden fairgrounds will be improved by the Minden Agricultural Society, through a grant from the Ontario

Ministry of Agriculture and Food. The grant, known as a major undertaking grant, provides funds up to 25% of the cost of the construction of buildings.

The Haliburton Legion Pipe band entertained invited guests at the official opening of the Jean A. Chalmers show at the Rails End Gallery Friday. The opening was held in conjunction with the five day Canadian Crafts Council conference.

Well readers, I have lost my secretary. She's not coming back anymore. Her name is Sherry Sawyer. She is taking a job in Minden Becker's store. But she has sent another fine young lady to take her place. Her name is Debbie Sisson. She's not a very good speller, but always willing to listen.

Lots of activity took place over the weekend. Most everyone had relatives or friends coming or visiting. Others came and took their mothers out. I had company too. Our son Ray and his wife Mary and daughter June and her friend came.

In the chapel service Sunday night, after singing some requested hymns, Rev. Burgess read Samuel 46 and led us in prayer. Then the Pettit ladies took over from there, the mother playing the organ, the girls singing and playing the violin. To tell you how much we enjoyed them I hardly know where to begin.

Quite a number are on the sick list here and as I write this letter Edith Welch's son Ron has been hospitalized with heart trouble but is just a little better.

Well readers, on Tuesday night, September 18, a new government took over. We hope it stays this way.

Our ladies are working in the craft room, trying to keep everything up to par. They're making many different items for our Christmas bazaar.

Rev. Elson of the United Church, who lives at Gelfert by the way, held a service in the chapel this lovely September day. Now here is a minister who really has the touch. The message he delivered to us we enjoyed very much.

Nurse Brown said they had been on a three week holiday. She said they met their daughter Heather in St. Catharines while they were away.

The movies Doris showed us last Tuesday were 'Happiness is loving your teacher', 'The Frazer River', and 'Express Line Europe'. They were very colourful.

Friday night the Watson Smith musicians came and they brought Thelma's cousins Mr. and Mrs. Lore Watson. Could they ever sing. They played and sang some sweet numbers, which was really grand. Our entertainers play lovely music. A good time was had by all.

The weather was glorious, and the early scarlet maples glowing in the sunshine among so many shades of green, showed off our beautiful county to representatives from all across Canada this past week. They were distinguished visitors from the fields of crafts, education and technology. When the Honourable Margaret Birch opened the Rails' End Gallery exhibition on Friday (The Jean A. Chalmers Bicentennial Collection), amid the highland swirl of the Haliburton Pipe Band and with the sun just setting behind Head Lake, it was a proud moment for Haliburton.

The Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, Sir Sandford Fleming College and the Ontario Crafts Council were the co-hosts for the Canadian Crafts Council's tenth annual conference. Many thanks are due for the tremendous contributions of time, effort and money from local municipalities, businessmen and Guild volunteers who worked together to present a delightful week for our guests. From the delicious snacks offered Friday evening in the tents outside the Rails' End Gallery (mountains of vegetables and fruit were prepared), to the tote bags filled with useful items from Haliburton merchants (donated by the Skyslider and stitched with Haliburton tartan by volunteer sewers), and the 175 little jars of maple syrup (made and filled by local potters), plus so many more acts and offers of assistance which all contributed to a warm and impressive reception from Haliburton to the rest of Canada.

During the dinner at Wig-a-Mog on Saturday, the Saidye Bronfman Award for Excellence in Crafts was presented to William Hazzard for his magnificent woodcarving of birds.

So many compliments and appreciative remarks were received during the week. At random, they were from a goldsmith from Alberta, the weaver from British Columbia, the community college teacher from the craft school in New Brunswick, who was sent with two of her students, one of whom was Beth Crosbie (daughter of John), a fashion design winner in her own right. Of course, as well, we received congratulations from representatives of the Ministry of Colleges and Universities and from the Ministry of Education and York University.

There were moments of laughter and horror naturally, such as the involuntary launching of 150 helium filled balloons at 4:15 p.m. while being filled, instead of at 5:45 p.m. when the Hon. Margaret Birch opened the gallery. But these moments only underlined the success of the rest of the arrangements. Congratulations Haliburton County, you did it once again.

They said they would be back again when their turn comes again this fall.

Our rich residents who saved their money when they were young, on this lovely September day, have gone on a boat cruise out on the Georgian Bay. We poor residents who hadn't saved a cent had to stay right here at home and be content to sit around, play a game or two, feeling sorry for ourselves and felling rather blue. Then who should come along but my son Vern and wife with a lovely picnic lunch and all. They picked me up to help eat it, up at Buttermilk Falls.

We would like to thank Helen Donaldson for taking over for Doris on Wednesday while Doris was away. It was good to have Lil Rawlins back again once more. She worked here many years before. Arnie Wright is away on a week's holiday. We really miss Arnie when she is away.

Oliver Hamilton has been away for a day or two, leaving our super with a lot of work to do.

The Kilmount UCW ladies brought and served a lovely lunch Thursday afternoon. To thank them in some small way, Doris and I played them a few lively tunes.

Coming to call the bingo numbers Thursday night were Brian Hamilton and sons Matthew, Michael and Don, and Yvonne Nye. Thank you Kinsmen members for dropping by.

Friday afternoon our faithfuls came and entertained us royally. We will miss them next week. The Coburns are taking a week's holiday.

MNR to establish new research centre

The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources plans to establish a fisheries, wildlife and forestry centre in Gravenhurst.

Scientific specialists at the planned Natural Resources Technology Development Unit will find ways to improve the state of fisheries, wildlife and forests in the Muskoka area and elsewhere in Ontario. Dave Atkinson, fish and wildlife supervisor for the Minden District, said the new centre will give local MNR employees "a little more help in research," since experts will be closer once the centre is established. Fisheries assessment for the Minden District will continue to be carried out from Bancroft, Atkinson said.

The Gravenhurst centre will employ about 25-30 permanent staff, plus additional seasonal contract staff. No existing jobs in the ministry's district offices will be affected by the new centre.

The ministry's acid precipitation studies, fisheries assessment units and the Community Fisheries Involvement Program will be co-ordinated from the new Gravenhurst facility. This work now takes place at the ministry's main office in Toronto.

"Because acid precipitation is such a major concern in this region, it is logical that our efforts be concentrated here," minister Alan Pope said. "The MNR's acid precipitation studies deal with the impact of acid precipitation on fisheries, wildlife and forestry. This work complements the research that takes place at the Ministry of Environment's acid precipitation facility in Dorset," Pope said.

The Gravenhurst facility will also be the home of a fisheries assessment unit, which will be responsible for the Muskoka area. Fisheries experts at the unit will study the effect of such things as water quality, habitat changes, water levels and stocking on fish populations.

Forestry authorities at the Gravenhurst centre will develop new silviculture techniques for valuable hardwoods, such as maple and birch, and for white and red pine. These trees are found through much of southern, central and eastern Ontario. The forestry team will also work closely with wildlife specialists at the centre to learn more about how certain cutting and silviculture techniques can improve deer, moose and bear habitat.

COTA to compile motor coach tour manual

Central Ontario Travel Association has received grants totalling $45,248 under the Canada Works program to compile data for a motor coach tour planner's manual. The manual, which is a part of a three year co-operative destination marketing strategy being initiated with the assistance of Allcom Marketing of Toronto, will be published in March of 1986.

Phase one of the plan, now underway, is the compiling of an inventory of attractions, facilities and services in the travel area, including Haliburton County, and a re-organization of the COTA and Regional travel guides to a listing format which will reflect the type of information visitors and tour planners are seeking.

During phase two, COTA will use the compiled information to determine a strategy for aggressively competing for group motor coach business. This will involve site inspections of attractions, facilities and services and the development of sample and circle tours.

Phase three will be the publishing of a group tour manual which will be a wrap around of the COTA travel guide and the aggressive marketing of the tours developed in phase two.

"This is a very exciting project," said Aldo Campagnola, Executive Director of COTA. "Central Ontario is a very unique and diverse destination but is not getting its share of the lucrative and fast growing motor coach business."

At present, attractions and communities in the travel area are competing with each other for this business. COTA's objective is to involve the attractions and facilities in circle tours and to offer more choices of stops in the travel area for the 'passing through' coaches. By offering planners and operators alternative stops, COTA hopes to bring in more tours and involve more tourism businesses particularly in the shoulder seasons," Campagnola said.

A team of four researchers will call on all tourism related businesses in the travel area over the next several months. Headquarters for the project is the COTA office at 785 The Kingsway, Peterborough.

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Kinmount Korner

by MILLIE MOSS
Congratulations to Warren and Linda Simms of Burlington on the birth of six pound, 15 ounce, Russell William, on September 3 at the Joseph Brant Hospital in Burlington. Russell is a new little brother to Alexander and Eric. He is also the latest grandson for Bill and Virginia Barkwell of Howland Junction.

I was sure glad to hear that Alfie Simms is coming along well at home following gall bladder surgery on August 27 at Joseph Brant Hospital in Burlington. Alfie is also a son to Virginia Barkwell and her husband Bill of Howland Junction. Needless to say Virginia has been spending part of her time in Burlington this past couple of months.

A surprise party was held Saturday, September 15 at the home of Ruth and Rudy Janke, Norland, in honour of Ruth's mother, Frances Gunn, who became an octogenarian recently. I'm told the party was a complete surprise to Frances. Every year a big celebration is held at the Janke home by way of thanks for the business from the past season, so nothing had to be hidden from our eighty year old. Some 40 to 50 guests were present including Phyllis and Bob Gordon, a nephew to Mrs. Gunn, from Vancouver, B.C. A gift of a large rocking chair was presented to the birthday lady from all the family, along with a fitted cushion and a wicker basket full of wool. Helen Graham, a daughter in law, made the birthday cake and her husband, Alex, again this year, murdered "Danny Boy".

I was very pleased to meet Patti Cragg, publisher of the North Kawartha Times in Fenelon Falls and two of her friendly helpers last Tuesday afternoon. It sure was a busy place that day, all over town.

The United Church of Norland will be having a bi-centennial service and luncheon to be held September 30, 1984 at 11 a.m. Rev. Eric Hudson will be a guest speaker. All members, former members and friends are invited most cordially to attend, as the Norland United Church people would love to see their church filled to capacity. Come and bring a friend.

Stan and May Watkins of Melfort, Saskatchewan have been guests of Leona and Everett Fountain for the past month or so and at present Mr. and Mrs. Watkins are on a bus tour of the east coast. They will follow that up with a trip to Hamilton, thence back to the Fountain home before travelling on. This is their first trip to Ontario.

Welcome home from your holiday, Lois and Tom Wilson and girls.

Hockley's five cents to a dollar store in town is getting a new facelift. It looks very nice.

Sincere sympathy to John Eakins and family in the death of his wife last week.

It was very nice to see Father Brooks on the main street for a short while one morning last week. He isn't exactly playing football, but is coming along nicely following his surgery.

Congratulations to Tim McKee, son of Bessie and Cliff Duffy of Kinmount and his Chris who will be married in North Bay on Friday, September 28.

We enjoyed having Amy Coker of Utterson, Helen and Stephen Coker with their young daughters, Heather and Christina from Huntsville. They had also visited Mary and John Pyke in Norland.

A very happy birthday on October 1 to Mrs. Mina Hughes of Lindsay, from her son, Charlie Henderson and all the rest of us here in Kinmount.

There are still kittens to be had if you phone 488-2526. I'm told they're litter trained.

The Farmer's Market annual dance featuring the Aaron Slick Band and held at the Minden Recreation Hall, recently, was a success. Everyone had a great time and lots of prizes were handed out. Thanks to all the donors of prizes, to the ladies' who looked after the lunch: Betty Lonsdale, Win Wilson, Jean Hollobon, to Jean and Bob Hollobon and Lil Roylance who got things going in the dance organizing department and to Ernie Hills who as Emcee, I'm told did a terrific job. Congratulations to winners of the tickets drawn: one bushel of turnips: Shirley McGee, Minden, one bushel of squash: T. Delisle of Belle River, one bag of potatoes: Reg Burke, Haliburton, four litres of maple syrup was won by Ruby Schell of Kinmount, one goat went to Jack Weeks of Minden, five ducks to Norm Graham at Gelert, five chickens to Maxine Snell in Minden, one lamb to Erin Featherstone of Whitby, half a pig to Audrey Vick, Gelert, hind of beef to Bert Smith of Jackson's Point.

Welcome home to Jack and Joyce Hills and 'Nanna' Hills who recently spent four days in Northern Ontario. They had a very enjoyable two hour trip by ferry from South Baymouth to Tobermory and visited, among other places, Wawa, Timmins and Sault Ste Marie. Joyce says they were a little early for the colours, but is sure we have just as beautiful colours right here at home.

"We, Us and Co." Crafts Shop on 503 highway will remain open for weekends only until Thanksgiving. Why not stop in and browse? The girls sure have some lovely handmade gift items to show you. I hope all you Lindsay Exhibition goers enjoyed yourselves this year.

To the gentleman who phoned the other day requesting a recipe for pickled meat, thank you for the kind words and I hope the following will help you out. Pickled Meat: put raw meat into a crock with enough cold water to cover and enough coarse salt to float a small potato. Put some cloves and pickling spice in a bag and let stand for about 10 days. Press down every morning.

Stay well and happy, read the Echo, call me at 488-2353 and remember: the best war memorial is peace.

"There is no successful surgical procedure that will replace spaghetti in the spine with a rigid backbone. This is strictly a do-it-yourself project. Another do-it-yourself effort is a no cost face lift, just smile".

We send best wishes for a speedy recovery to Elizabeth Richter who was admitted to Huntsville Hospital last Wednesday morning.

We send birthday greetings to Erich Nash on his 11th birthday on September 22. Happy birthday to Mildred Park on the 23rd. Anniversary greetings to Leon and Joyce McKee on the 26th of September.

There is a marathon run taking place in the area on Sunday, October 7, being called Muskoka Metric Marathon and is being measured in kms instead of miles. As a regulation marathon is 26.2 mi, this metric one is 26.2 km, which is equivalent to 16.26 mi. The run will start at Paint Lake cemetery on Paint Lake Rd. at 8 a.m. and will follow the old Baysville road to Glenmount road, turn right and across Highway 117 to the Lakeshore road, turn right and follow that to 117 then back to Dorset where there will be a refreshment stand just north of the Dorset garage. There will be watering holes along the way, one being in front of the Senior's building, manned by seniors who hand out cups of H2O to the passing runners. The Marathon has been organized by John Clayton and Paul and Pat Kennedy and entry forms may be obtained from Clayton's store and other businesses in the village.

The Dorset Senior Club started off the fall season with a pot luck supper followed by a business meeting, which included installation of officers. The new president is Gwen Raven, secretary, Marg. Walkden, treasurer, Art Walkden. The social convener is Bea Seedhouse and the telephone convener is Elizabeth Richter. Following the business meeting the group was entertained by a comedy on V.C.R. The meetings are held each Wednesday evening until standard time begins and in the afternoons during standard time. This eliminates a necessity for a lot of night driving. We are looking forward to an active winter season and would welcome any new members.

It was too bad that we had to cancel the bus trip to Woodbine but there were just not enough available participants. We learned too late that we might have gotten some people from the Huntsville club who hadn't taken the trip with their own club or would like to have made a return trip. Well, better luck next year.

Mrs. Jean Jones of Scarborough has been a visitor at my home the past week. Not much sunshine greeted visitors, but there were lots of enjoyable walks with some spots of colour to brighten up the scenery.

Speaking of weather and the future, we still have Indian Summer to look forward to. I wonder why the name? And they (whoever they are) also say that we have to have Squaw Winter before we have Indian Summer. So there you are.

H.H. If you put a tablespoon of cooking oil, margarine or butter into the water you are cooking pasta in, you do not have to rinse after cooking. Spaghetti, noodles, etc. will not stick together but just need to be drained before using in your favourite casserole or other dish.

"There is wisdom in taking the time to care, there is wisdom in giving and wanting to share, there is wisdom in grace and making amends and there's wisdom of having and keeping good friends."

The Dorset Senior Club had an excellent attendance when they met last Wednesday evening. There were several guests as well as the regular members. The entertainment was most enjoyable, being a series of Jacques Cousteau films provided by Stuart Tait who also operated the projector. The club appreciated his efforts.

Eldred MacKay is home after spending a week with her son Gordon, his wife and two little girls at their home in Midland.

A lovely outdoor wedding took place in the village on Saturday, September 15 when James McLennan and Barb Beckett were joined in holy matrimony. James is the son of Ross McLennan who was born and raised in Dorset but now resides in Niagara Falls. The ceremony took place outside the family homestead where James' grandparents, the Jack McLennans lived when they first came to Dorset many years ago, the grandparents now being deceased. The attendants were all family members, Andy McLennan sang a

We are looking forward to an Octoberfest on October 6 to be held for one day only in the Dorset Community Centre. This will be from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. There will be a barbecue and dancing to the music of Wally Melan of CFBK. The event is under the auspices of the Dorset Snowmobile Club. Everyone is welcome to Octoberfest 84.

Guests at the home of Mrs. John MacKay last weekend were cousins Mrs. Jean Davis of Kettleby, Mrs. Doris Murray of Havelock and Mrs. Fern Nolan of New Port Richie, Florida. The latter, Mrs. Nolan and Eldred had not seen each other since high school days. Needless to say there was a lot of reminiscing and a great visit was enjoyed by one and all.

Well, fall is definitely upon us and while we may have to endure some colder weather, we can now enjoy the subtle beauty of the changing leaves.

The Norland United Church is holding a bi-centennial service at the church on Sunday, September 13. The service will feature a luncheon and a guest speaker, Eric Hudson. They are hoping to fill the church to its capacity with friends and former church members. Please spread the word.

As I mentioned last week a new veterinary clinic has opened approximately half a mile north of Coboconk. The name of the doctor is Dr. DeGeer and the clinic is open Monday to Friday, nine a.m. to six p.m. The phone number is 454-1664. Dr. DeGeer's home phone number is 454-1517.

Last Saturday, September 15 the friends and family of Frances Gunn threw her a belated, surprise, 80th birthday party. There she was presented with a corsage from her great-grandchildren a picture frame from her grandchildren and a rocking chair and a basket full of wool from her many sons and daughters. Guests came from British Columbia, Peterborough and Fenelon Falls. Needless to say Mrs. Gunn was very surprised and pleased.

Coboconk News

By SHEILA LAKE

It is a damp, dismal Saturday morning and the sun is trying to shine. I hope it is a sunny week and for those out at cottages. Cottage days are winding down so enjoy the time relaxing in our great outdoors. The odd tree is beginning to have coloured leaves and soon all will be ablaze in glorious colour.

Lindsay Fair is on this week, and there will be a number of entrants in several categories from our area. I always admire the lovely flowers and vegetables produced by the area gardeners. It is surely a labour of love to spend hours out working the earth, swatting mosquitos and outsmarting the cut worms.

With all the break-ins and so much property being stolen, we must all be double sure everything is locked up tight. It seems a bicycle or barbecue is no longer safe even on your own veranda.

A couple of benefit dances are coming up for those who need financial help. There will be a benefit dance for Ken Stuart at the Bobcaygeon Community Hall on Saturday, September 22 with the Carlton Showband. You are all familiar with the Carlton Showband as they are well known TV entertainers. Tickets are $5 each.

At the Burnt River-Somerville Centre, on Saturday, October 6 a benefit dance will be held for Don and Carol Evans and family who recently lost their home to fire. Tickets are available by phoning 454-8878 or 454-3597. A D.J. will provide music.

The local public school will be open for horticultural meetings beginning with the October meeting. Meetings are held third Thursday of each month. Mr. Bullock, the school principal, is a very pleasant person and co-operative and necessary arrangements were made last week. The caretakers, Roger and Rose Bradmore, will oblige by having school open at 7:15 on the third Thursday evenings.

Mrs. Mary Limrick has not been well the past week. We wish you better health soon, Mary.

Congratulations to Ben and Ethel Farrow who celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary last week. Also, Edna Pearce celebrated her birthday with cake, and lots of love from her family. She has not been well and mostly confined to her home.

The film "Witcomb's War" shown at Faith Tabernacle Sunday night was well attended with the Trinity Full Gospel Church joining in the fellowship.

Mrs. Ada Fisher and Walter Marles of Lindsay, Louie Marles and family, of Peterborough visited their mother, Mrs. Annie Marles on the weekend.

Did you know that "failure is the opportunity to begin again more intelligently"? If you meet a fellow who claims he descended from a monkey, don't argue with him. After all, he knows his family better than you do!

A grey short hair female cat has been lost in Coboconk Indian Point area. If you see this grey and white friendly cat phone 454-3371 or 454-1282.

Mrs. Cecil Toole has lost her cat also, in the Elizabeth Street area. The cat has a leash on it.

The regular Bexley Township council meeting for October has been changed to October 1, 1984 rather than October 8, due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Perhaps you have not visited your old home church in a very long time, and have many memories of friends you made there as a child in Sunday School. Well, Norland United Church is having a bicentennial service and luncheon on Sunday, September 30 at Norland. A former minister, Rev. Eric Hudson, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service. The Norland folks want to fill the church to capacity and that can only be accomplished with your help. Spread the word around and invite old members, become excited and get behind this effort to make Sunday, September 30 a memorable service.

Thane and Terry Yeo are back after a two week holiday visiting relatives in Melfort and St. Brieux, Saskatchewan. They visited Terry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Allen at St. Brieux and her sisters Mrs. Poppal and family and Mrs. Sherematta and family all of Melfort, as well as a number of nieces, nephews and friends.

John and Rose Rocchio are home after a three week holiday with relatives in Alberta. They visited John's mother, Mrs. Matilda Rocchio, of Edson, Alta., sister, Mrs. Mary Joe of Edson, brothers, Tony Rocchio, and Joe Rocchio of Hinton, and Rose's brother, Joe Bonise of Edmonton, as well as a number of old friends.

Winners in the seniors card games for the past two weeks are as follows: September 11 - Euchre: ladies' first, Joan Bowins, 78; second, Hilda Chynoweth, 70; most lone hands, Hilda Chynoweth, 3; consolation, Alice Madill, 49; men's first, Laura Irvine, 77; second, Russell McCaughey, 74; most lone hands, Rhilda Hunter, 4; consolation, George Topham, 41; bridge: first, Dorothy Grant, 6150; second, Vi Gange, 5070; consolation, Lily Smith, 980.

September 18 - Euchre: ladies' first, Elva Hannivan, 81; second, Ada Thomas, 74; most lone hands, Elva Hannivan, 6; consolation, Marj Fountain, 48; men's first, George Topham, 71; second, Hilda Chynoweth, 70; most lone hands, George Topham, 5; consolation, George Topham, 49. Bridge: first, Myra Dyan, 4620; second, Ed Holland, 4130; consolation, Bernice Grant, 890.

Twelve ladies from Coby journeyed to Haliburton on September 18 and were guests of Haliburton ladies at the Apostolic church where they enjoyed a lunch and visitation and a business meeting later where Hazel Brisco was speaker. There were ladies present from Fenelon Falls and Lindsay as well.

Congratulations to the Ross Faulkners who celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary last Monday, the 17th. Also, congratulations to the Ben Farrow's who were married 51 years on September 12. Mrs. Amy Timleck and grandson, Timmy Godwin were among those who journeyed to Midland to see the Pope last week.

Home Support

by DONNA BAILEY

Well, we certainly had a terrific response to our annual meeting on Friday, Sept. 14 - approximately 170 plus came for the lunch and meeting or just the meeting from just about every walk of life including our newly elected M.P., Bill Scott, our County Warden, five County Reeves, one Councilwoman, service club representatives, people from various aspects of health giving and caring services, Convenors of programs, Senior Volunteers in Service, Volunteers, many Senior, our former and newly elected Executive and Board of Directors - "Thank you" for coming. We hope you enjoyed your day with us and went away with a better understanding of what Home Support is all about and what we work hard to do - to enable the elderly and handicapped to remain independent in their homes for a longer period. We hope that you also have a better understanding of the needs of our elderly.

Please don't let it stop with just this meeting. Get involved - we need you. Don't hide your talents and abilities - use them to help others. You will definitely feel better. Volunteers are always needed for all of our programs - Meals on Wheels, Wheels to Meals, Transportation Home Help, Fone-a-friend, Friendly visiting. Give us a call at 457-2941 or drop into our office which is located in the Drag River Municipal office opposite Emmerson Lumber.

If you still do not have our Autumn newsletter for yourself or your organization, drop into our office and pick up a copy or copies for "shared" distribution. They are free, and so very informative about all that is going on at Home Support.

Drop in Centre

by TERESA CONGDON

Anna Nichol is no longer with the staff of Haliburton County Home Support Services. For the past six months Anna has been the Drop-In Centre Programmer. She has done a terrific job here of setting up programmes. Everyone wants to say goodbye, but do come back to visit us.

A coffee and crafts morning has been set up for Thursday mornings starting at 9:30 a.m. Please bring any craft to work on. The Adult swim programme will start soon at Locarno Resort. If you wish to register please call the Home Support office. The ten sessions will start Wednesday, October 10, and continue until December 12. A membership of $30 will include the use of the pool, whirlpool, and sauna. If you wish to bring a guest for one session the cost is $4. Don't forget to sign up soon.

A Red Cross first aid programme will be scheduled for sometime in October. The date and time is tentative. Please come in to the Drop-In Centre to have a coffee and visit. We are located at the Drag River Municipal Building across from Emmerson Lumber, or give us a call if you have any question about the Drop-In Centre.

A dirty cooling system can make your engine run hot

When dirt, rust and sludge deposits clog the tiny passages in your heater core, you're in for a long, uncomfortable winter behind the wheel. That's because these blockages prevent your cooling system from circulating hot coolant from the engine through your heater to warm the inside of your car.

But you really don't have to freeze this winter. Because now there's a method of cleaning out your car's entire cooling system, including the heater core. With WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush and WYNN'S X-TEND Cooling System products. A new approach to cleaning and maintaining your automobile's entire cooling system, while helping to maximize cooling system efficiency.

WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush unit uses pressurized water and air to flush even those hard-to-reach areas of your cooling system. So act now, before a dirty cooling system can cause your heater - and your blood - to run cold.

The service held at St. Margaret's on September 23 was one of dedication to the memory of the late Rev. George Meades. The Rev. George Meades served as a Priest in the charge of St. Margaret's from 1973 until 1978. He and his wife Violet, won the love and respect of the congregation as they worked with enthusiasm for the good of the church. They suggested changes to the building that have since been carried out and have greatly improved the appearance of the church. Donations to the memorial fund in loving memory of Mr. Meades have resulted in the purchase of new front doors. These were dedicated at the Sunday service by the Rev. John Phillips. Mrs. Violet Meades came with friends from Lindsay to attend the service and they were made welcome in a friendly reunion that took place later, where refreshments were served and happy memories were revived.

This is a good time for a visit to your local library. The first Fall book exchange has brought in some new reading material that will come in handy for rainy days and for enjoyment and relaxation which is justly earned by coping with all those summer guests. Many thanks to those who have contributed articles for the upcoming flea market that takes place on the Thanksgiving weekend.

Harcourt Community Chapel children's and youth activities are starting soon for the fall season. The Young Peoples group, now in its 23rd year, is for those in Grade 7 or older. It starts Friday, September 28 at the Hughes home on Grace River Road.

Busy Beaver Boy's Club gets underway for its fifth year on Tuesday, October 2 at 6:30 p.m. Boys aged 6-12 years can call any of last year's leaders for further information or for transportation.

The Chipmunks Girl's Group for girls age 6-12 will again meet on Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. Their first meeting will be Thursday, October 4.

These programmes hold some good times for those who can participate in them through the coming year.

The parking area in front of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the I.G.A. store and the Liquor store has been greatly improved by the paving that took place this last week.

Faye and Vic Snyder of Bowmanville spent last weekend with Theresa and Theo Peacock. Pearl and Albert Cary joined them for dinner on Saturday.

Marion James of Bowmanville accompanied by her friend, Helen Burgess, spent last weekend at her Pine Lake cottage.

Peter and Nancy McQuillan of Hamilton spent the weekend at the cottage of their grandmother, Claribel Sheehan.

Margaret and Dallyn Pickens have returned after a pleasant week in Thunder Bay with their daughter, Christina, her husband, Tom and son Jamie.

Peggy and Crawford Shier of Toronto spent a few days with Margaret and Dallyn Pickens, also visiting other friends.

Rosaline MacDuff has undergone gall bladder surgery in the Civic Hospital, Peterborough. We trust she will be fully restored to good health soon.

Violet and Arnold Wallington of Nipawin, Sask. flew east for the 60th wedding anniversary of Vivian and Tommy Dovell. They remained for a week, staying with their aunt, Susie Madill and visiting their many other relatives here before their return.

Audrey Prentice, accompanied by her daughter, Susan with husband Bob and their son, Thomas, spent last weekend at her home here.

A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the Community Centre last Sunday afternoon. This was a happy occasion - the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Eva and Carl Sisson.

A buffet luncheon was served as congratulations were tendered the bride and groom and a pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed.

Many gifts and cards expressed good wishes were received.

The happy couple have two daughters - Yvonne MacDuff of MacDuff Texaco here and Marilyn Hadley of Lindsay.

Some years ago they operated the Texaco station now owned by Elgin MacDuff.

We extend our best wishes for good health and happiness in the years ahead.

A dirty cooling system can make your engine run hot

When dirt, rust and sludge deposits clog the tiny passages in your heater core, you're in for a long, uncomfortable winter behind the wheel. That's because these blockages prevent your cooling system from circulating hot coolant from the engine through your heater to warm the inside of your car.

But you really don't have to freeze this winter. Because now there's a method of cleaning out your car's entire cooling system, including the heater core. With WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush and WYNN'S X-TEND Cooling System products. A new approach to cleaning and maintaining your automobile's entire cooling system, while helping to maximize cooling system efficiency.

WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush unit uses pressurized water and air to flush even those hard-to-reach areas of your cooling system. So act now, before a dirty cooling system can cause your heater - and your blood - to run cold.

The Classifieds- Something to crow about

People everywhere flock to our listings for top value buys of every kind.

The word is out. Whether you have something to sell or want to find a genuine bargain, the Classified section is the place to get what you are looking for. Sell or seek houses, cars, boats, jobs, services, exciting garage sale "finds."

And remember, the Classifieds don't disappear in the wink of an eye. They have staying power to peruse at your leisure.

Minden News

By MAIZIE AUSTEN
Sharlena Warder with her horse My Double Breeze attended the Lindsay Exhibition last weekend. They brought home first prize for the reserve championship. They also won one second, three third, one fourth, two fifth and one sixth prize for jumping. Tammy Wilbie brought home two sixth prizes. Congratulations to both girls. We are all proud of you.

This should have been in last week's column: Eldon and Laureen McCracken recently visited their daughter, Dorothy, son-in-law Allan Sharkey and family in Whitby.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of Clare Walker.

We all wish Carl Packard, also John Packard, a speedy recovery.

Charlie Palmer took in the Lindsay Exhibition last Wednesday.

Don't forget the movies at the Library/Cultural Centre for the children on Friday from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m.

A thought for the day: rumors are like checks: do not endorse them until you are sure they are valid.

Pat, Bob, Robie and David Ackerblade moved into their new home last weekend.

The Archie Stouffer Home and School Association will be having its annual meet the teachers night at the Minden Library/Cultural Centre on Wednesday, September 26 from 8:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. All parents are welcome and refreshments will be served.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery will be closed on September 24, 25 and 26 for the change over for the next showing.

Lawrence and Wanetta Hogg became proud grandparents on Friday, September 21. The proud parents of a 7 pound 14 1/2 ounce baby boy are Cathy and Larry Hogg of Reabro. This is a new brother for Nicky, the fifth grandchild for the Hogg and the second for Lorna and Allan Cundy.

Here are two more hints on grass stains. Rub with lard, let stand, then wash with soap and water. For non-washables, sponge with rubbing alcohol.

Alberta and other parts of the west are getting the snow. It won't be long now.

If you have any news for me to include in my column, please call 286-3607. Thank you.

People ask why a certain piece of news is not printed in my column. I can't include it if they don't call it in.

Fred Seedhouse's water-colour exhibit will be on display September 27 to October 28.

So you want to sell your second car? Place an ad in the Echo Classifieds for the best response.

Thanksgiving weekend will be a busy few days. I'll have more information in next week's column.

Here's a recipe for a nice dessert. Coffee Jelly: 1 envelope gelatin, 2 cups coffee (strong), 1/2 cup sugar and the juice of one half a lemon. Dissolve gelatin in a little cold water. Have the 2 cups of coffee boiling and pour over the gelatin. Add juice of half a lemon and the sugar. Pour into a mold or separate serving dishes. Chill until firm and serve with whipped cream. Serves four.

The Minden Shell, Minden Marine and Minden Auto Parts held their businessman and customer get together at the Minden arena last Saturday evening. They had a good turnout and everyone enjoyed the evening.

The young hockey players have started their practice sessions. It won't be long until we see them at play in their regular games.

Some of the staff at Hyland Crest had a party for Pat Ackerblade with a cake and the trimmings. Pat received some beautiful cards and a lovely silver heart necklace which they engraved for her. All the best on your new job Pat.

That's all for this week. Drive with care and watch for the young generation and school buses. I hope to see you all next week.

made for the centre. She designed and supervised the building of the same.

- made drapes, shelves and nursery school equipment for the centre

- she has worked at the centre almost every day for the past two years at no charge to the community, and has trained and employed youth for the day camp and nursery school.

The nursery school is used to relieve working mothers of the expensive baby-sitting costs and also to give the mothers at home a break.

Janet's ability to work with the youth of Oxtongue was evidenced by their performance at last year's Christmas concert.

Janet also acts as a social worker in the community and is always available to assist teenagers or anyone who has a problem.

Her diplomatic approach to helping the needy, without robbing them of their right to dignity and pride is commendable.

I haven't had the pleasure of meeting Janet Brown as yet, but I intend to as soon as it can be arranged.

Dinner

There will be a turkey dinner at the Haliburton Legion Hall, on September 30 from 4 - 5 p.m. Admission is $6, children 12 and under $3, preschoolers free. Proceeds go to the Haliburton Figure Skating Club.

Concert

CHACE Place - Parent-Child Resource Centre, presents Sandra Beech in concert at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School in Haliburton village, on Saturday, October 13, from 2 to 3 p.m. Tickets are $3 per person and available at CHACE Place. Phone 457-2989 for more information.

Annual meeting and early bird draw

Members participating in the seminars to be held at Wig-a-Mog Inn on October 10, 1984 will be eligible for the door prizes to be drawn at each seminar. Register early and save your ticket stubs; you may win.
